- We strongly encourage all students to extend the invitation to see this show and spread the word through family, friends, teachers, especially using social media. Share your creativity with the world! You can send photos to gallery@wesleyanpotters.com or share them when you post to your own social media @wesleyanpotters
- Self-Marketing Tip: Taking photos and posting works in progress (referred as #WIP) creates a sneak peek to the show and is an excellent way to use social media as an educational tool for people interested in craft.

We are here to help!
